

In celebration of the 201st anniversary of Darwin's birth you are warmly invited to a talk on “Charles Darwin, an inspiration for Wales in the 21st century”

by Professor Anthony Campbell

Thursday, February 11th

6pm for 6.15 start

Room 24

Ty Hywel

The National Assembly for Wales,

Cardiff Bay

Hosted by Lorraine Barrett AM

In association with Cardiff Humanists Group

Anthony Campbell is a Professor in Medical Biochemistry at Cardiff University and an internationally acclaimed biochemist and expert in the science of lactose intolerance. Having founded the Darwin Centre in 1994, as well as the Pembrokeshire Darwin Science Festival, Prof. Campbell has given talks around the world on Charles Darwin.

If you would like to attend, please contact Lorraine on 029 2089 8376 as space is limited or email - lorraine.barrett@wales.gov.uk

Light refreshments provided